

ARE YOU PLANNING TO APPLY FOR AN OVERSEAS OR ERASMUS INTERNATIONAL MOBILITY GRANT?

While waiting for the new calls for applications, you should know how your language proficiency will be assessed.

There will be no special tests, since your language proficiency will be assessed through the language exams you have taken or through any certificates you have been awarded.

This data will be extracted from the CLA (University Foreign Languages Center) database and from your online University transcript.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE

If you hold a recognized certification, you should submit your documentation (if you have not already done so) through this link no later than the date you will find in the relevant announcements.

For detailed information about the B2 English exam please read here.

LANGUAGES OTHER THAN ENGLISH

If you believe you have uncertified skills in a language OTHER THAN ENGLISH you should contact the relevant CEL \(Collaborator and Language Expert\) for information about courses and exams. If you hold a certification, you should submit it (if you have not already done so) through this link no later than the date you will find in the relevant announcements.

You will find all the information about the language you are interested in on the Foreign Languages Center website. Please search the site for the answer to your question before contacting the CLA.

Exams must be passed by the deadlines you will find in the application calls.

Before the publication of the final rankings, the International Relations Office will publish the scores related to the language assessment of candidates, who will then have the opportunity to report any incongruences.
